

Jiasik Bianco

The hamlet of Giassivo exudes an atmosphere of the past, in which every stone tells a story. It is here that it all started, with the old vines that still today produce a wine which warms the heart, which calls for a celebration, a coming together. From these vines comes a new wine, from a mix of grape varieties, fresh and young but with ties to an ancient place with a magical spirit. It is a wine which breathes a music which knows no boundaries.

Site

Cru “Giassico”, a tiny hamlet which still preserves the atmosphere of the Austro-Hungarian Empire.

Vinification

The whole bunches are cooled to the freezing point of the skins and then, after 3-4 hours, they undergo soft pressing at 7-8 °C.

Grape varieties

Riesling, Malvasia

Tasting notes

Nose: fresh fruit and flowers, with a characteristic mineral note in the finish and a very personal touch of ginger.

Palate: fruit-forward and soft with balanced acidity. Preserves the aromatic intensity of riesling (green pepper), the seductive quality of malvasia and the aristocratic notes of pinot bianco.

Appearance: pale straw.

Food matches

A sophisticated aperitif, but its versatility makes it an ideal match for a range of dishes.

Serving temperature

10-12 °C.
